Closing date for applications: Friday 3 December 2021

Scheme eligibility

- Rome Fellowships: Applicants for Fellowships normally must be within three years of the award of their doctorate at the closing date for applications (so awarded no earlier than December 2018). Applicants who were awarded their doctorate before this should note that progression through other research fellowships or assistantships and teaching posts will not be considered a valid reason for not meeting this criterion. However, someone whose career has been interrupted by, for example, maternity leave, family commitments or illness, will be considered sympathetically. Applicants must be British citizens or must have been awarded their doctorate by a UK university*.
- Rome Scholarships: Scholarships will be awarded to successful applicants who intend to submit their doctorate no later than 31 August 2022 but are awaiting their viva and award of the degree. Any such award will be conditional upon this submission criterion having been met. Applicants must be British citizens or must be completing their doctorate at a UK university*. Candidates will not be permitted to take up the award and come into residence unless they have submitted the thesis by 31 August 2022: candidates therefore are advised to be realistic about their work and the submission date.
- Rome Awards: Applicants for Rome Awards should meet the eligibility criteria for either a Rome Fellowship or a Rome Scholarship.
- Rome Awards (donor-funded): Applicants normally will have begun a programme of research in the general field for which the Award is being sought, whether or not registered for a higher degree. Applicants must be British or Commonwealth citizens; or must be studying or have studied at postgraduate level in a Higher Education Institution* in the UK, having completed by October 2021 not less than four years of residence in the UK.
- Applicants in receipt of an AHRC or equivalent award may receive the title of Award-holder, Scholar or Fellow, and will be allocated a room at the BSR, for which they will be charged at an appropriate rate. The BSR will consider financial support only if AHRC or equivalent award-holders are able to demonstrate that they have exhausted other funding options before applying to receive the full benefit of the BSR award. They must declare the BSR benefit to their other funding body.

Applicants for Rome Fellowships, Rome Scholarships and Rome Awards should note that applications that are solely to revise a thesis for publication, without undertaking additional research whilst in Rome, are unlikely to be successful.

Selection criteria

1. The academic merit of the applicant judged by his/her previous record and references, including her/his prospects of making a future contribution to scholarship.
2. The suitability of the project for the BSR, bearing in mind its location, resources and access to resources.
3. The inherent academic significance and interest of the project proposed, and the feasibility of completion to the timetable stated.
4. The suitability of the candidate to contribute to the academic community of the BSR and the need to ensure a reasonable balance between different disciplines and chronological periods within the BSR's academic community.
